

1-5-2005

Please provide us with information to aid and assist our consciousness and understanding of the power place where we will be celebrating the new moon of 2005.

We welcome you and welcome all the spiritual beings of light who are gathering in anticipation and great expectancy of this ceremony of realignment and reopening of consciousness of the energy portal of the world within, between and beyond your three dimensional world. I am Kuthumi, World Teacher, and I will be speaking to you with the aid and assistance of many of my brothers and sisters in Shamballa in this most auspicious time. Offering much clarity and revelation will be Sananda, Lord of Light and many of the masters speaking through the voice of the Divine Feminine. For this is a reopening of a portal which will release many aspects of energy coming into manifestation in this time of expanding consciousness – but one of the primary goals, so to speak, is to rebalance the masculine energy which has spiraled out of control, with the feminine principle of containing, vibrating the essence of pure Love back to the Earth meridians which are aligned with human consciousness, to create this essential balance.

Benefit of Group Consciousness in this experience

We will also tell you that there are layers upon layers of meaning and significance in this area and in the event – so that while we will touch on a few aspects of it for you to consider and then use your ability to discriminate that which is Truth, you must all accept the responsibility to Create the meaning and the energy and the intention for the greatest good of your own Souls. Now, that being said, all is interconnected. So that while some individuals participating in this event may focus their consciousness on an aspect of healing which will be extremely powerful in this area at the time around the new moon, and others will focus on multidimensional realities and the broader awakening and reactivation of the third eye in conjunction with the Eye of Horus manifesting above the area, all that is brought into the circle in intentionality, will be experienced as vibration by all others. So that, as a group, you will all benefit from the consciousness and intentionality of all others.

Sharing your experience

This is one way of saying that you do not need to have consciousness over the full aspects of this awakening and portal, but to bring it to the fullest expression of energy, that being – consciousness, you will perhaps all choose to share what you experience in the circle of energy. For many of you have had hesitation about sharing your visions through the vibration of the Voice with others – many of you have stayed in the background of what you may think of as safety and security but not sharing all that you see and hear and know. Now, we will tell you that in such a gathering of like-minded souls, there is no risk of persecution or ridicule – you have the opportunity to heal from all the karma and past experience of being persecuted for your abilities to see and experience multi-dimensional realities. This, among many other things, is an opportunity to reclaim your birthright and your soul-light, to be multi-dimensional beings in the pure and complete safety of the Creator. For all of you have experienced much negativity for your abilities that were non-3 dimensional in other lives and in this life. So, if you so choose, you may wish to share your experience with others and to add to the building of Conscious Light. For those of you who still fear speaking your inner vision, this will be a great breakthrough, so to speak. For those of you already in the roles of sharing other dimensions, you will be much validated in hearing the seeing the similar realities of all of your fellow souls. And for those of you who think you cannot see, hear or experience other perceptions beyond the five senses, this will be your opportunity to allow your imagination to soar, and then bring it into reality by sharing your experiences. For it is in the imagination that all non three dimensional experience begins. Imagination is indeed very real – and if you can imagine it, you can become it and be it. So if you believe that you do not yet have “extra-sensory” abilities, this will indeed be a very auspicious time to reclaim your abilities.

Release doubts

There are those of you wondering if there is a right way to do this or to set your intention. We will most assuredly tell you that when you place your consciousness on the highest vibration of Love and Light, that which is for the greatest good of all concerned is set into motion and will be activated in a beautiful pattern of inter-woven energy. If you do only one thing to prepare, it would be to release all of your doubts. Then as you enter into the circle, you will experience just that which is in your highest and best good. There are many lessons within this one lesson. The one lesson, that of being in the Now, is precipitated by your intention of releasing doubts. Do you see how in this simple intention, that of releasing doubt, you open yourself to endless possibilities of transformation? Yes indeed, most perfect. For when you release doubts, you release your self from the concerns of the past and future and focus all the magnificent power of your consciousness on the Now, the only moment which holds power!

Path of the Kaballah

Now, we will tell you of some of the layers of meaning of this event. And these layers of meaning follow the path of the Kaballah as so wisely pointed out by our brother, the master shaman Soaring Hawk.

Increase in Consciousness in Phoenix

Before we begin on this pathway, we will tell you that which you already know about the energies bringing this into reality at this time. Over the area of Phoenix there have been many beings of light watching and gathering, and as has been stated, coming and going through the portal. The massive increase in consciousness in this great metropolitan area has allowed this portal to become available in human consciousness as a multi-dimensional Light manifestation. Consciousness creates light. Light activates consciousness. And in a beautiful and perfected spiral, this dance continues both within and outside the limitations of time and space. So this is to say that while you experience yourself on the continuum of time, many beings have come together to create this manifestation of light. If you would consider that time has no significance for those existing primarily in the higher dimensions of consciousness, you would know that this sacred geometrical form has existed over the area of Phoenix since time immemorial. But for those of you operating on the continuum of time (because of your choice to be involved as incarnated beings in this transformative period), the manifestation of the sacred form of the star tetrahedron over Phoenix may be experienced as a “new” energy which has come about because of the mass increase in consciousness. So, if you will hold the duality of this form existing forever and of this form coming into new conscious existence, you will see and know that its manifestation in the current now is made possible by the sheer number of humans coming into Conscious Light of the energies and realities of Divine Love. Do you understand?

Potential of return to balance

To clarify, we will tell you that the sacred form of the star tetrahedron is manifesting above this area because of the increased mass consciousness of spirituality. But this form has always existed here as a portal of Light. What you are bringing into reality is the power and potentiality of this living sacred form, which hold all other sacred forms within it. What you are bringing into consciousness, is the reactivation in your cellular memory of the full and complete power of your creative thoughts, words and actions. What you are bringing into your life by participating in such a sacred ceremony, is a return to balance of harmony of the masculine and feminine, the old and the new, the sacred and the mundane and the dark and the light. You are providing humanity with the ascension pathway to transcend to the third point on the triangle, the position which can exist within such dualities but at the same time, transcend them. Yes indeed.

The Kaballah – Sphere 11

(please refer to the figure on page 5 for reference to sphere numbers – the spheres are referred to as sefirot.)

Now we will speak of the Divine Pathways and the layerings of the star tetrahedron pattern. We will begin with the unseen sphere – that which is present in the void and is seen and yet unseen. It is the beginning and the end, the infinite and the finite. For it is the Sphere 11 within the center of the Kaballah. The divine number of 11:11, representing 22 or 4, the fourth dimension where time exists. And we will tell you that we say 11:11 because there are two patterns of Kabballah coming together: the old and the new, merging to form a new reality. Now this is important because the Sphere 11 is the gateway for transformation. It is known as death on the outer circle where we encounter the abyss and apparent chaos of random thoughts and conception. But when we delve through the abyss of death we encounter on the inner sphere, the reality of Knowledge.

Death of the Illusory self – the step of Courage

We begin here on Sphere 11, to present the layerings of meaning and significance for the Phoenix star tetrahedron rather than on the Sphere 1, the Kether. It is in seeing the significance of 11, that we begin to acknowledge the death of the illusory self. For if we set our intention to begin with the inner, unseen eye, we must allow the conception of our old self to experience a death of sorts. This death is an ending of illusion and a transformation through knowing the inner Divine. When we allow ourselves to step into the energy of COURAGE, that which we initially think we do not Know, we step through and then beyond the chaos of confusion. Now, there are many who will not be able to take this step – for they are too ingrained with the energy of doubt, of which we spoke of earlier. The Sphere 11, is in actuality, the beginning of the hero's journey, for we must heed the calling and then take the step into what looks like the abyss, the chaos and the end, to find it is only another, more substantial beginning. So when the energy of the star tetrahedron manifests into reality over a geographic area, it signifies that there exists a mass of collective consciousness that is willing to take this step or has taken this step onto the pathway of Knowledge. Thus, through the Kaballah, the first step is that of the 11, the aspiration of universal human to return to the Divine Zero Point of Wisdom.

Sacred Symbols

The first step is illustrated above by the Eye of Horus upon which sits Thoth, holding the star tetrahedron for you to contemplate. You may wish to contemplate the significance of the ankh around his forearm and the circular symbol emblazoned on the upper pyramid. These sacred symbols are present for your own conscious awakening and if you are called to contemplate these symbols, many doorways of knowledge will be opened.

Sphere 1, the Keter- the moment of NOW

From the Sphere 11, we move to the Sphere 1, the Keter. The Keter is considered the crown and the sphere of supreme consciousness and infinite light and wisdom. When you envision this point at the top of the star tetrahedron manifesting over the area, you become connected to the energy of the Eternal Light gifting itself back to Earth through this gateway opened through conscious thought. Through the Sphere 1, the moment of now manifests – there is no-thing-ness within this point. Thus, when you connect with this point at the top of the star tetrahedron, you are able to experience the Now in a new way – the Now which means, no-thing, only unity consciousness. And we will tell you that the four great birds which have been holding the energy of this space have each rotated and wheeled through this point – each holding the energy of the Now within their eyes. Each day, these four birds rotate 11 times through this spot, making it possible for the four directions and elements of Earth to connect with the energy of Now. (The Earth, similar to those of you in incarnation, has been impacted by a limited sense of reality – so as you work to rediscover your multi-dimensional selves, so does the consciousness of Mother Earth. All energy on Earth is rediscovering the keys to Now and the energetic agreements which have held it in 3 dimensionality with the illusion of limitation and lack.) This is all a part of reweaving the fabric of energy above the area which was damaged in previous civilizations. Much of the work is done and the birds are now holding the energy in place for your own experience of it.

Spheres 2, 4, and 7 – the male pillar redefined

Now we proceed to spheres 2, 4 and 7, the right side of the Kabbalah which has traditionally been referred to as the “Male” pillar, or the Pillar of Mercy. This side has been interpreted as containing the spheres of wisdom, mercy and victory. What we will tell you is that again, there is the convergence of the old and the new pattern of the Kaballah. Thus, a new version of the old and the male and female pathways are merging so that all aspects of the Sefirot contain the full expression of both the male and female. Now, we have no need to identify the right side of the Tree of Life with wisdom being in the domain of male energy – with this merging of multiple patterns, we reintegrate the attributes of God beyond duality – so thus, these aspects of wisdom (spiritual force), mercy (power and authority) and victory (intellect or active grace) become imbued with both the qualities of active and passive energy.

Placing your energies in the star tetrahedron

What does this mean for me and my understanding of the star tetrahedron, you are wondering? If you envision yourself to be the figure depicted above, sitting in the star tetrahedron and superimposed on this image is the Tree of Life, you can imagine the right side of the Kaballah as represented by the three points of the intersecting triangles on the right side – the sphere two being the upper right side point (the base of the inverted pyramid), the sphere four being the intersecting point on the right side of the two pyramids, and the sphere 7 being the lower right side point (the base of the upright pyramid). To further add complexity, we will most assuredly tell you that the pyramids are spinning in constant motion so that there is no such thing as a fixed point on the star tetrahedron. However, let us simplify to say that the energies which are represented in these locations are points of consciousness. So that if you wish to become conscious of the Divine attribute of one of these spheres on the Kaballah, you may focus on the energies of that point as part of a pathway to higher awareness. So to bring this new, integrated form of the star tetrahedron into the conscious reality of your life means this: to allow the spiritual force, power and authority and active grace to become active energies in your life.

These attributes have been largely propelled into reality by the imbalance of male energies over the last Age – thus, much of aggression and judgment and domination has come from the use of Force without respect for the need to balance it with the energies of receiving. This is the say that the masculine energies which have directed these attributes have caused spiritual force to be polarized into a means of control (right belief vs. wrong belief as defined by material principles and desire to limit free will); have caused power and authority to be wielded by those who were led by the scarcity mentality and the “us vs. them” mindset; have caused grace to become an intellectual concept out of the reach of most of humanity.

Effect of rebalancing spheres 2, 4 and 7

In merging the feminine principal with these three sefirot, these active principles become rebalanced and whole – and they begin to work in your individual life and through your thoughts, words and actions. In each of your cells, the imbalance begins to be corrected and you are able to experience as multidimensional beings, the Truth of your existence which you have been separated from over many incarnations. You begin to recall and re-experience balance in and through these attributes when you focus your conscious intention upon the gift of bringing this back to reality through the patterning of the Tree of Life. You experience the full power of spiritual force without any need or desire to control others, you become and Are the authority of your own life without need to bend to the ego wills of others, and you experience active grace, as a living breathing state of being. Yes, most divine and most perfected at this time for those of you participating in this experience.

Clarification of the purpose served by male/female imbalance

Do you see how these attributes have been imbalanced in the male polarity and have caused this state of inner and outer confusion, doubt and despair? We would like to make it crystal clear to you that this has no judgment or bearing on men or women – it would be of no use to add fuel to the fire of sexism which has resulted from this imbalance. All of you have participated in this experience over the last Age and are responsible for it. It began as part of the age of Pices and has a roots much older than this, and was an experiment in the ability of humanity to take duality to its extreme. Those who were involved in this Plan were aware of the potential outcomes and as part of the plan sent the energy of Sananda, to be embodied in the person of Jesus to attempt to counterbalance this potential pathway of extreme duality. With your limited perspective of history (for we will tell you that much of what your history recounts is imperfect and adulterated by those enforcing the male domination), you know that this experiment did not have shining results. This is not to say that many, many lessons were not learned, for this indeed has been one of the purposes behind all of this last age – to give humanity the opportunity to experience the result of imbalance between male and female; to provide you who in awakening in consciousness to be very much more aware of the potential outcomes of any experience where unity of hearts, minds and souls is not the highest goal; and to serve as a reminder of the ultimate responsibility each soul has in creating the reality and pathway for all of humanity. Yes indeed, a very large Plan but one that is now on the brink of taking a huge step of progress for all of Consciousness.

Message from White Dove

There is one who would speak for those who see from on high to you now about this aspect of the Tree of Life coming back to balance: The White Dove, spirit of peace and harmony transmits this message: “Those of you on this path of return to balance and wholeness must know that I have been holding the vibration of perfected Love in the space over your Home for many eons. When you call upon me, know that this balance and unity that you seek is already manifested – that each time from now on that you imagine yourself to be in the energy of the star tetrahedron, you are healing your cellular and DNA structures from all past energy of separation and misuse of force, power and grace. You may call upon me as the symbol of returning force, power and grace to the center of your being, where it belongs in right feeling in the heart. When you feel the peace of the dove descending upon you, know that there is the vibration of pure intentionality of Love and Light emanating from your very cellular structure, and all that has come before is rewritten on your records to have been for the greatest good as you continue on as fellow sentient beings on a journey to Serve the Divine. Namaste.”

Spheres 3, 5 and 8 - the female pillar redefined

Now, we will look at the Spheres 3, 5 and 8. This left side of the Tree of Life has been traditionally represented as feminine and has been called the Pillar of Severity. This has been interpreted to contain the energy of understanding, severity (stern judgment) and communication or prophecy. By very virtue of the imbalance of male and female energies, much negative connotations have been attached to this side of the Tree of Life. Much focus has been on the attribute of severity and of judgment, thus resulting in the entire side of the tree carrying all challenge and weakness at the same time. When we now bring the energies of the old and new Kaballahs together, we are able to see the return to balance of these attributes. So that now, in the sphere 3, we experience not only the yin energy and the cosmic mother from whom all compassion flows, but we experience the male and female aspects of these attributes – thus, the attribute of compassion becomes balanced in mutual respect and admiration of both male and female for the interconnected role in all of creation that brings forth new life. Compassion emanates from both the male and female, and the earth becomes the Mother and the Father at the same time. We no longer need to attribute energies of female to the compassionate planetary energy that has long nurtured and sustained humanity. We are able, through our conscious minds, to see that the earth is compassionate in a balanced sense – allowing resources to be used and replenished without fear of scarcity, devastation and dis-ease. Earth no longer serves the role as victim (as have many female beings) but accepts a balanced role of sustainer and provider, both the active and passive energy which continues to nurture humanity and all life on the planet.

Sphere 5 – karma's principle

In Sphere 5 the attribute of stern judgment and strength is often emphasized. In one interpretation, this has resulted from the misunderstanding of laws of karma. There is indeed operative in the universe the reality of “that which you sow, so shall you reap”, but it is not based on a punitive and judgmental creator. It is simply a principle which ensures that all life will continue to evolve, not necessarily in a linear fashion, but in such a way that over large spans of time, change will manifest for the greatest good. From the perspective of ego, this often appears to be severity. From the perspective of the soul, this attribute in action is a reflection of Strength. Much conflict experienced by humanity is thought to stem from this sphere. However, it has been through the aspect of conflict between the lower and higher selves, between the ego and the soul, between the heart and the mind-as-separate, that you have come to the point where the male and female energies of sphere 5 can be integrated. When strength is accompanied by Truth, and when judgment is used as compassionate evaluation of actions, then the male and female aspects are balanced and are returned to the impelling force of Love.

Sphere 8 – removing fear and reclaiming clairsentience

Returning the balance to sphere 8, the Hod, intellect, communication and prophecy become imbued with the qualities of reason and spiritual comprehension. Much female energy was destroyed in the last Age through persecution and disempowerment of priestesses. When this energy is returned to balance and wholeness, it opens up all levels of clairsentience to those who wish to reclaim the full power of the mind. The primary vibration passing from this sphere is that of fear. For much manipulation of the emotion of fear was used to keep control over the feminine aspect of intellect.

Divine Communication

As you imagine yourself sitting in the star tetrahedron, you envision the three points of the tree of life on the left hand side, returning to balance and wholeness, so that the pillar (which is now a double helixed column) becomes that of Divine communication. By focusing your conscious intention on these points, you may receive knowledge and wisdom from higher spiritual sources and then in turn, offer this to those around you. In merging the masculine principal with these three sefirot, these passive principles become rebalanced and whole. You experience understanding as pure love, judgment as energy moving to a higher point on the continuum of spiritual evolution and communication or prophecy as your direct connection to the Divine Mind. Yes indeed, most perfected.

Message from Owl

Now the Owl, spirit of wisdom and divine observation, would speak to you about this aspect of the Tree of Life coming back to balance: “I speak to you my brothers and sisters as fellow travelers on a journey to hold the wisdom of the cosmos within your heart. When you integrate the energy of compassionate understanding, with judgment and communication, you are realigning your energy bodies to a higher spiritual plane. You begin to allow all the false ideas of separation to become a stepping stone to higher wisdom. For then you are able to See that you have the ability to create Love, you Hear the soul note of your being as it interacts with other fellow travelers and you Speak only that which is wisdom and Truth. When you call upon me, you activate that which is now seeking to manifest, that of your True self which observes the Divine Plan in action. Adonai.”

Spheres 6, 9 and 10 – emanating power

Now we will turn our attention and intention to Spheres 6, 9 and 10. The central spheres have been attributed with perfection/unity, foundation/illusion and physical reality. The central pillar is known as the Pillar of Equilibrium and includes sphere 1, the Keter. What is the impact on the center of the Tree of Life when it is already imbued with male and female energies and is balance? Well, we will tell you one thing about a tree that is out of balance on its left and right sides: the center serves as a point of stress and tension in its constant role of holding the tree upright. The center is forced to balance that which is overdeveloped by sending energy to the weaker side. So you see, when the two sides of the Tree are brought into inner balance, the center becomes a pillar of emanating power vs. establishing equilibrium. So even the central pillar benefits greatly from the bringing together of the old and new Kaballahs.

Sphere 6 – the key to creating reality

The star tetrahedron spins around a central axis which is now free to emanate energies rather than to attempt to maintain a shaky balance. The true attributes of sphere 6, 9 and 10 are now manifesting within the star tetrahedron. The full Light of the sun (sphere 6) will begin to radiate perfection and unity through all forms of light, photonic, spectral and spiritual. The return of the energy of perfection into reality vs. as a mental concept will do much to unleash your own individual power to create. For behind all the statements you have heard about creating your own reality, you have held the shadow of doubt. You have wondered if this could be true, then why are you not able to manifest reality in perfection Now? Well, we will tell you that within the star tetrahedron form, you will begin to bring into your consciousness the actual steps to do such a thing.

Sphere 9 – clearing debris from the foundation

As you hold your consciousness within the star tetrahedron form and focus on the central axis of power and equilibrium, you may choose to delve into the energy of sphere 9. Sphere 9 is located within the physical body in the pelvic region. Now this area has been much confused and burdened energetically by what we will call mental and cosmic “debris”. For the first time in linear memory, you have before you an opportunity to clear your lower energy bodies of most, if not all of this debris. Sphere 9, the Yesod, is referred to as the foundation. Now, if the foundation is built on a pile of debris and rotting material, do you not see how it will affect the entire structure? Yes, we will tell you that while this seems rather dramatic, it is one of the great gifts of this point in time that you have before you to be able to clear and rebalance this central, power point of your energy body.

As you now understand, the Tree of Life is contained as a sacred geometrical form within the physical body and is a pathway to understanding and to transformation. Many of you have focused your consciousness on the higher centers, neglecting to understand that it is in the foundation that much current life energy emanates and is held in pattern based on past actions. In Sphere 9, the energy of the moon, deep cellular memories and the cycles of this and all of your other lifetimes are contained. If you would choose to gather the courage you experienced in beginning this journey in Sphere 11 once again, you may take the conscious step to enter into this energetic center and examine what is contained within. When you consider that this center and area of the body contains the sexual life force, you will see that your ability to create from pure intention is located here. If you have within this energetic center, (which in most humanity contains misunderstanding and misuse and abuse of the sexual, creative life force), confusion, guilt and fear, you will carry the energy of confusion about How to Create with your entire energy structure.

Many of you have not yet examined in the Light, the beliefs that you hold here. Many of you were taught that in order to survive, you must submit; or that in order to prosper, you must conquer and control others; or that the process of creating life is random and haphazard – a mere “accident”; or that you must suffer to learn your lessons. These are very deep beliefs and if not brought into the light to be examined, will continue to hamper your progress toward balance and unity.

Message from Raven

Now, how does one go about clearing the debris, so to speak? We call upon the wisdom of the Raven, who now will speak to you if you are willing to open your heart to listen: “Welcome brothers and sisters of Light. I am honored to speak to you of the pathway to self transformation. For many of you have felt a sort of dread when you see me. A black messenger, a harbinger of that which you may not wish to examine. Many of you even refuse to see me or acknowledge my presence, believing that the raven is an ominous sign, a sign of negativity and ill will. Well, I am honored to tell you that together, we now have the opportunity to uncover the seeds of this belief. For I have served to hold the darkness within my energy for you – as our fellow messenger, Kuthumi has spoken, I hold the energy of the foundation and creative center within my dark wings. IF you will journey with me to the foundation of your beliefs about your own creative powers, you will hold to the Light that you have been misinformed and thus have created that which serves to confuse and retard your conscious understanding of how you create reality. My gift to you is to illuminate all the debris stored in the foundation of your energetic body and then, with the vortex of Light, to sweep away that which no longer serves you as beliefs about yourself, others, society and the interaction of humanity with all other forms of life on earth. When you place your conscious intention in the star tetrahedron and focus on the sphere 9, the second chakra and the foundation, with Courage in your heart, you will most assuredly see revealed in clarity all those things which need to be swept away. You may imagine the Light shining in this area to reveal all to you, and then, with the intention of clearing and releasing this debris, gather all that into the heart – for it is in heart that you are able to release with gratitude and love, that which no longer serves you. For please remember fellow travelers, that these beliefs did indeed serve you once and from this center, you learned many important lessons. So with the light, then bring this to the heart, and release it in gratitude to be purified and returned to its state of original energy. Now you may wish to sit in quiet expectation to see, hear and know the keys to creating reality in your own life. For they are different for each one of you. You may be gifted with a symbol, an affirmation, a formula or any other number of sacred keys. This will come to you through your third eye and you will know it is of great significance. When you call upon me to serve with you in this sacred work/play, you will experience great transformation. For when you acknowledge that which has been hidden, bring it to Light and transform it, your entire energy body will vibrate at a higher level, attracting to it that which serves the highest and best good for your soul as you walk the pathway of ascension in harmony with Earth. Qadoish. Qadoish. Qadoish. Go in Peace.”

Sphere 10 – the sacred in the mundane

Yes. Now we will turn our attention to the sphere 10, the kingdom. In traditional system of the Kaballah, this sphere has been interpreted as holding the mundane world, physical reality and the energy of pain, death and healing. We will tell you that when the old and new Kaballas have been brought into balance and the sphere 9 is purified, this center becomes the kingdom of heaven manifested on earth. Is this not what you are all longing for in your hearts? To be in constant consciousness that you are one with the Divine Mind, to know that you are the manifestation of Love and Light, to experience all the abundance of this earthly incarnation which is at its root this: when you create in Love, you become Love, when you create in Light, you are Light, when the core of your being radiates pure spiritual intention, you are vibrating the whole of your Soul through a courageous heart. Yes indeed. From this experience of reality then, the mundane, physical world becomes sacred in all aspects. So thus, there is no need to experience transformation through suffering, for you create transformation without the need to cycle through pain. You have healed your energy body in the sphere of 9 and thus into the root of your life, you have brought healing and the knowledge and wisdom which comes with it.

We have been speaking much to you over the past six months on the topic of serving humanity through the heart of love. In much of this has been the key that this is accomplished by making the mundane sacred through your intention. As you continue with the experience of allowing the Light of your soul to shine out in the physical reality you have created, you will see the transformation taking place. This is not to say that you will no longer encounter challenge, but most assuredly, your response and reaction to it will be different.

Message from Hawk

Now speaking to you, if you would choose to hear, is the Hawk, the bird which holds the power of all that is and circulates this energy on currents of air. "I bring to those of you willing to listen and hear, the gift of the Spiral. I observe that which is and carry it in my wings in a spiral back to the Great Central Sun. I serve as conduit for energies that you interpret as reality, gathering these energies up and spiraling them into the cosmos. Now, for what purpose you ask? The spiral serves to move energy to a higher plane. In your physical density and with the weight of previous debris, you have had need of aid and assistance to impel you forward on this spiral. One of the gifts I offer to you is the impetus for higher spiritual knowledge. I carry the energy of soaring to higher planes of knowledge, allowing you to journey upward in your mind, thus connecting you with the Truth of your soul. When you sit in the star tetrahedron and imagine your root chakra and the 10th sphere of the Tree of Life spiraling with me, you will sense a new balance and wholeness returning to your life. You will from this healed place, re-create reality and your experience of it will be transformed. You will reside in the reality of perfection, for that which you create will be perfect; you will sit in the foundation of a purified energy body; and you will experience in every thought, word and deed, the sacred in the mundane. Call upon me when you so desire, from pure intention, to hold this energy in your reality. Go in Peace."

Your responsibility to manifest change

What we have provided you with thus, our dear ones, is one set of meanings and processes available to you as you participate in the conscious manifestation of the star tetrahedron over your geographical area. Those of you residing in different areas may tap into this energy at any time through your conscious minds. You may also imagine the same form manifesting within your own area, and the process is set in motion in divine order. Much energy is being aligned with the highest purpose of Light. This is a time of great change and transformation. As you accept your responsibility to create in harmony and unity at this time of change, you bring about into your reality all that is in your greatest good. As spiritual beings in physical incarnation at this most auspicious time, you have a unique opportunity to transform the path of humanity and in so doing, the path of Earth. We know that in your heart, mind and soul, that you understand this and will accept this sacred responsibility to your self, humanity and the Earth.

Message from Eagle

Finally, we will hear from the Eagle, majestic carrier of the Pathway of highest spiritual attainment. “Welcome brother and sisters. I have been the one you have seen and watched, entranced as I soar effortlessly above your heads. I have carried all that is pure and divine in your hearts. I have been the reminder that all of the Divine One, exists in plain view and pure energy for you to see. Now, as you sit in the star tetrahedron, you may wish to accept the gift I bring, that of integrating all of that which you feel in your heart when you see me, into the perfectly balanced energy body which is You. You may transform that awe and feeling of longing you experience when you see my manifested form, into the entire wholeness of your energy. For that awe and respect is that which we feel for you; for we see you in the courageous role of awakening to your own Divine Selves. We, the eagle, see you and hold you in awe and respect for that which you are now willing to transform, that which you are willing to make real, and that which you are now calling Truth. The balanced male and female energies join in our flight to carry you into the Unity Consciousness. For when you allow yourself to soar effortlessly with Eagle, you become One. You are no longer separated from the Divine Mind, for you are in the Divine Mind. You are no longer different from those of your fellow travelers, for you are all one and the same. You are no longer in a state of longing, for you have journeyed Home, to the heart of the Cosmos, the great Mother/Father/Creator, that which is in each one of you. You have become that which you Love, the Divine and perfected Self of Light. In humble gratitude, I thank you for your Being. Adonai.”

For the greatest good of all concerned,

Kuthumi, with the aid and assistance of Sananda
