

5-6-2005 Angelic Grid and LNA

In the name of the Light, I ask for enlightenment about the angelic grid and the light network of ascension. Please aid and assist those of us working together to experience this grid to provide us with what we need to know to serve the earth, humanity and the angelic and ascended master realms at this time.

The Archangelic Command

Yes, we welcome you and speaking to you today will be several levels of Presence. First of all, the Archangelic Command of Seven: Michael, Gabriel, Uriel, Raphael, Phaniel, Jophiel, and Remiel. We speak this morning as One Voice. In reality, One Voice is all there is. When we speak through the One Voice, we are communicating to you a thought-form from the Divine Mind. All emanates from the Divine Mind. The distinguishing factor of the concepts presented to you is the closeness and synchronicity of idea to the Source.

As the Archangelic Command, we are this morning wishing to present to you the concept of the Light Network of Ascension. Entering in synchronicity with the Angelic Grid work being completed by our friend in Light, Eileen, is the patterning and programming of the light network of ascension into the angelic grid network. These two are interwoven, and yet are one and the same. The angelic grid is interwoven with the light network of ascension grid. They are interdependent and inter-related. They are both light grids which require consciousness of intention on your part in order to benefit from for the greatest good of all concerned. All of humanity will benefit from these grids being woven in great harmony from the vibration of Love. Those in conscious contact with the grids, most assuredly, will experience a much greater connection with Source, with Light and with Love. If all of Humanity would access this vibration, all conflict would instantly cease. This is Truth. However, we will in great gratitude, accept the consciousness of those of you working in the light for the whole of humanity and for the earth at this time. Through the few, the many will be resurrected in Light. This is also Truth.

The Angelic Command also wishes for you to know, on this day of preparation for the etheric alignment of 05-05-05, you may wish to hold open a vibration of intent for all of humanity. All of you hold within your hearts the highest good for the planet but you often hesitate to believe in the highest good for humanity. Some of you have despaired for humanity as an entire entity. Some of you have wondered if much of humanity has come off the track of goodness and light. So your focus has turned to the individual self or immediate circle, or wider circle of fellow light workers. You have, by default, so to speak, turned your back on the elements of humanity that seem to be “less than” that which you aspire to. To encompass a vibration of hope and caring for all of humanity has become too painful for some and too remote a possibility for total humanity-based healing for others. So you choose to focus on the earth as a living, breathing entity for your highest focus of Light. This hope and focus on earth is indeed a fine thing, however, our friends in light, we will tell you that the earth and humanity existing on the earth are one and the same thing. You may wish to separate them in your own mind, but this is a construct of duality and isolation.

We will tell you that much that has occurred in the last 12 months in the geo-political sphere and in the bio-economic sphere, has appeared to be worthy of your energy of despair. If you consider the developments and the stresses in these areas over the last 12 months, you will instantly feel the stress and all of the emotional body discord stemming from your observations, judgments, conclusions, and categorizations of these events. You have decided in your minds: “this is good and this is bad.” For example, for many of you, the tsunami was bad, the world reaction to the devastation was good, the American political election was bad, the massive turnout of voters was good, the war in Iraq is bad, the election in Iraq is good. Do you see, this our dear hearts? In every event, thought, and occurrence, there is a gift and an opportunity. We would like for you to realign your thought process on this day to encompass all of humanity as being worthy of being healed, to include in your prayers to the angelic realm, all peoples, all nations, all religions, all races as being worthy of the greatest good, and all individual incarnated souls walking the earth at this time to be blessed in the light of faith, hope and charity. For neither you alone, nor your group of immediate contacts, not your wider group of lightworkers will ascend or become enlightened without all of humanity. So do you see, that if you despair for humanity, you despair for yourselves, if you disparage certain belief systems and certain political regimes, you disparage yourself. For within each “negative” thing, is the Truth of the gift and the opportunity. If you stay in the perspective of your small, local environment and your geo-centric judgmental-ism, you will miss many of the opportunities for the gifts and the healings that occur for all of humanity as you begin to act with one heart and one mind.

There are so many, many opportunities now for you to enter into the fullness of the global community of humanity. For the first time, you may, through your thought-form emanating through the angelic grid and the LNA, touch any member of humanity with the vibration of perfected and divine Love. Just through your intention alone, you may heal the very one who is reaching out for hope. We in the Angelic Command, serve all who call. But it is in the reaching out of human to human that will serve as the greatest good for the earth at this time. There are so many acts of kindness being unreported in your media at this time. Every day, the men and women serving in combat zones are entering into acts of charity, to acts of selflessness and to acts of compassion to others that you, our friends, may define as “different” than yourselves. In your intellectual mind you may feel unable to relate to the soldier who is fighting for freedom, be that of freedom from tyranny as perceived by either side, or freedom from occupation by an invading nation, or freedom to pursue a religious belief without persecution. However, you are no different than this. You may be just as polarized in your belief system as this soldier, just as certain in your position as being the “correct” and “right” one. Our dear ones, you are all a reflection of the Divine Mind. How can one person be right and another wrong? It is simply a matter of where you place your belief system on the continuum of all there is. This is to say that if you find yourself in the position of emotional body discord stemming from your observations, judgments, conclusions, and categorizations, you are on the polarized spectrum of duality. “I am right, you are wrong.” This may be your mindset and your motto. You may even not be conscious of this.

We are asking you today, if you are in agreement with this, to transcend into the fullness of the angelic grid and the LNA. You may wish to examine your belief systems and ask, by divine dispensation and with the assistance of the Archangelic Command, to:

“For the greatest good of all concerned, release me from my dualistic thinking which judges others as separate, places the self in the center of right, and egocentrically decides the I am better than other fellow humans. Thank you.”

Then you may wish to realign yourself with the vibration that all of humanity is worthy of healing, ascension, grace and Divine Love. In so praying:

“I align myself with all of humanity, accepting that I AM part of the whole, that I AM one and the same, that I AM part of the body, the mind and the soul of the one human race. I ask for peace, understanding and love for all of humanity. I believe all humans are worthy and divine and contain within, the potential for healing and grace.”

Yes indeed, if you so choose to participate in this integrated belief system, you will find yourselves in a much more powerful position to benefit from the angelic grid and the LNA. With the peace of the dove, we say to you, we are the Arch-Angelic Command.

Sananda and Kuthumi

Now. Wishing to address you are Sananda and Kuthumi. We welcome you and we wish to speak to you about the opportunities of this work and this play that you are entering into in conscious intention. Now, why are some people aware and conscious of the grids and the light networks and others are not? Is this a form of duality from which you base your conclusions of “us and them”? Of course, this is one way of thinking about the work you are doing at this time. You may think you are better informed or more privileged. Or you may think that it is simply a matter of consciousness. What we wish to convey, along the same lines as the Archangelic command, is that you are simply in a consciousness cell that gives you access to realms of realities larger than the individual, family, community, national and global planes. This means one thing: you are responsible for holding this vibration of One in your many bodies at all times. What the Archangelic command has provided you with is your own blueprint to ascension. It is through the ability to hold the reality of one-ness open in your hearts, that you enter fully into the angelic grids, the grids of light and the grids of inter-connectivity of Love. You see, if you hold yourselves as separate from the humanity body at this time, you cannot fully enter into these grids. A part of your thought-form, the image of your own divinity, will be trapped in the etheric layer of earth if you do not attune to the vibration of One. As you know, the etheric work being done by our friend in light has served to attune you to the potential of working and playing in the grid. This is possible for all.

We wish for you to know that if you transcend in your energy bodies to the vibration of One, all of your energy and vibration will enter into the grid and thus, there will be no thing keeping you from that which you seek in your hearts: the experience of Divine Love. We have no higher aspiration for you, our dear ones, than for you to remember and to re-experience, while in an earth incarnation, that perfected space of knowing that you are one with the Divine Mind. For when this enters your consciousness not as a thought, but as a feeling, it becomes Reality. There are many of you who know this and have experienced this already. We are asking you to take this to the next level. To allow this knowingness to touch not only your own selves, but, in the fullness of the experience, to allow this feeling to circle the earth on the wings of the angels and the dove of peace, then to permeate all of the structures and bodies of the earth and all creatures in and of the earth. This meditative commitment and intent will take humanity to the next phase of Responsibility. This is the task of the Aquarian Age. Where each is responsible for all. This is the community of Light, the gift and opportunity of Love and the reality and out-picturing of Ascension Consciousness.

For the greatest good of all concerned, we wish to thank you and bestow our blessings on your work.

IN LOVE AND LIGHT

Sananda and Kuthumi

© Ronna Prince 2005 (This document may be forwarded with permission with the attached copyright.)