Accepting the Mantle of Light: Your Cosmic Christed Self
Kuthumi, Sanat Kumara and Lady Pallas Athena

WE wish to discuss a topic of great interest and yet of great trepidation to humanity at this time. You have all been seeing signs of the end-times. You have been receiving transmissions from many sources that there is a great battle waging between the forces of dark and the forces of light. You even have at this time the “final episode” of Star Wars to remind you of the heroic battle of epic proportions going on. These things are all in your conscious, subconscious and unconscious minds. Now, we will tell you one thing that you may wish to ponder. If, on the dimension of the spiritual hierarchy of ascended masters, as you so call us, there is no constraint of time, no limitation of past, present and future, why are you receiving so many transmissions referring to linear time-based shifts and changes and the great need for people of light to shine forth in order to conquer the darkness? If there is no time or space constraints from this “higher” perspective, do “we” not already know the outcome of all things? For many of you are expending much energy in the various bodies over a sense of urgency, if not of fear, to get your house in order so that you will be ready for the great transition of the nano-second.

AS you know, the nano-second is that convergence of time and space of the turning of the Ages from one to another. The intersection of ages has coalesced such that the beginning of the 21st century represents a unique time in this sector of the galaxy where many possibilities and potentialities converge in order to create the most glorious of all times that spiritual beings have been witness to and participated in. What we are referring to is the highest probability for Light to reign supreme during the transition of earth, humanity and of the star beings aiding and assisting all at this time.

Existing outside of the time continuum, are multiple realities of probability. For when one can see in the higher dimensions, through thought alone, one is able to project various outcomes along the holographic corridors of time, in order to explore potentialities and the spiraling consequences of actions and choices. This is to say, that this tool is one used by those in higher dimensions as an educational pathway to Light. We can project potentials into the spiral of time to determine the best possible outcome which is line with the Divine Plan. And this is where you, our dear friends, come into play. For we can indeed see beyond the time-space continuum where all is possible, and all exists in the moment of Now, but you are the ones enacting free will to create the stage play of the New Age. This is why consciousness becomes so greatly important at this time. For if you remain unconscious of the intersection of Ages and the potentialities existing at this time, you may be operating out of a fixed design aimed largely at personal and group karma.

Fixed design, as we have presented to you in prior discourses, is largely the plan of destiny set out before you as a result of choices you have made as a soul, lessons needing to be learned and the decision to stay on the wheel of karma rather than spiraling off of it to higher dimensions of possibility. If you operate out of free will choice, by becoming conscious of all that you are, and all that you have the potential to become, you will shed layers and layers of fixed design programs which keep you on the wheel of karma and keep you bogged down in playing roles and repaying karmic debts. This is the time, our dear friends, to step off of the karmic wheel of fixed design. Yes, at this time, you may even step outside of the astrological constraints of the zodiacal wheel that you were born under. This is the time to create your own destiny and to accelerate your spiritual wisdom to heights you did not even know were possible.

From the seventh dimension we know that Light will reign supreme. It is simply a matter of how it will manifest on the time-space continuum where you are playing your parts. Most assuredly, there are multiple realities, but the one you choose to focus your consciousness on, is one of great interest to us and to the many beings operating on the spiral of consciousness. You are in the reality of the potential second coming of the Christed One. Now, this does not mean the Christian religion, but the return of the Cosmic Christ who is represented by all the great masters of this dimension: Buddha, Sai Baba, Mother Theresa, Gandhi, Martin Luther King, Master Disney and many more. And also, our friends, You. Yes, you are able to become part of the Cosmic Christ, for you contain within you, the seed of Light which is your birthright. This seed of light is available to all who wish to release the darkness and ignorance of the past, bringing to consciousness the fullness of your being. The fullness of your being is that which is the simplest, yet most profound aspect of your self: your divine soul.

When you make a conscious choice to step off of the wheels of fate, astrological predetermination, and limited vision, you step into the fullness of your soul. Most of you are living in consciousness of only a fractional part of your soul. And when this is the case, you may be stirred up to worry or fear when you hear or read of the end times. For only in the fear-based mind does this resonate with cellular memories of past eras of destruction and devastation.

There may be a time in the near future when you must all make a choice of free will. There will be those who will choose to reject the Cosmic Christ and will use the guise of religious zealotry to do the same thing that was done to many great spiritual leaders over the ages: attempt to destroy the very thing that is sent to save you. And there will be those who choose to drop the veil of ignorance and see the Truth of what is: that you are eternal, that you are divine, that you are perfect in all of your manifestations. This will be the supreme act of free will choice. And the escape route many of you have chosen over current and past lives has been to not make a choice, but to simply wait and see what happens or pretend you are not impacted by events on the large stage. Our dear friends, this too, is a choice. This escape route is no longer open to humanity. All must choose and all must participate whether explicitly or by default in the coming transitions.

What we can see of the potential pathways of humanity is that one by one, each will make a choice. The decision to participate in the great awakening of the ages will be both an individual and a group choice. The series of choices and the incarnated souls making the choices will determine the final outcome both in terms of content and timing. The end times that you have been reading about refer to nothing more than the ending of one way of being and the beginning of another. This has happened over and over again throughout the ages. And we will tell you one small thing: you are still here! Many of you have participated in just such critical transitions throughout Time and you continue to be the key players on this stage.

The purpose behind the shifts in reality are many. However, we will tell you that these shifts are part of the Plan and as the cosmic spiral accelerates, many parts of the Plan are coming together in multiple intersections. This is the thing that is unique about the nano-second. This is one of the few times that all awareness coalesces into human consciousness. You all have the ability to participate in full awareness and consciousness of the Plan. In prior times, only the elite few have had access to all that was occurring on many planes of reality as Ages shifted one to the next. In Atlantis, for example, only the inner group of the Melchizedek Order knew of the shifts occurring. People were not trusted with the information because of the vibration of fear. And fear feeds the dark forces acting to prevent change. Thus, much of the Plan was kept hidden and people were left in unconsciousness of their roles in the stage play.

Can you imagine being an actor in a play where you don't even know your part, much less the scenery, the directions and the plot? This has been the case for most of the shifts of ages throughout the history recorded in your cellular memories. Now, you are all being invited to play your part in full consciousness. You are no longer left on the stage to be moved about like pawns in the game of the elite. This is why discussions of end times resonates so deeply in your cellular memories. In previous incarnations, you were left to experience the consequences of actions you could not connect with any form of self-determination. All shift thus, had the vibration of victim-hood and all the concomitant emotions of helplessness: guilt, shame, fear, resentment, bitterness and anger.

So now, our dear friends, you are being invited to drop the veil of unconscious and subconscious participation on the stage of your life. This is what is key and central to the upcoming shift: that you accept your full responsibility as a co-creative being of Light. What does this mean? This means that you accept responsibility for all your thoughts, words and actions. This means that you study, integrate and follow the eight-fold path. This means that you no longer accept the role of victim on the stage of your life. This means that with the fullness of your soul you affirm: "I am no longer available to be manipulated by forces outside myself and Divine Will. I am willing, ready and able to accept my role in the coming shift to stand forth as a beacon of Light, holding steady the course of the Earth and all of humanity working together to create that which we are here for: Heaven on Earth, where all co-exist in respect, honor and love."

We will tell you that the end times can be very chaotic for those who remain in the role of victims. You, our dear friends in light, may choose a different path, that of the co-creators of love and light. So now, you see that there is nothing to fear, there is nothing to dread in the uncertainty of these times. For as we have stated, we are very certain of the outcome. The only thing that remains to be seen is which ones of you will shed the cloak of victim and accept the mantle of responsibility. This is your divine birthright. For in that mantle of light is the activation of your Cosmic Christed Self. Once you accept the mantle, you have made your commitment known to the universe and all becomes unified in the One Divine Mind.

You are all brave and shining souls. We honor your choice to be in the world at this time and have great expectation that you will accept your role of divine responsibility.

For the greatest good of all,

So be it and so it is.
