Please give me a better, clearer answer to the purpose and meaning of the London bombings. We are asking from a place of needing real answers that can help us on our dimension make sense of the continuing violence of humanity towards itself. I still don't understand why this is existing if the Plan is in place and is working. Why?

Our dear friends in Light, we see that you are not satisfied with our previous discourses. We have spoken about these acts of violence as teachers. We have spoken to you about these acts as opportunities. We have stopped short of speaking to you as these acts as gifts, for we know that is too difficult to comprehend this so near to the event.

We have spoken to you about releasing blame and about truly entering into Trust. We have spoken to you about the underpinning lesson of this all: Love. And yet this is not enough. You suffer still for those who have suffered. This is part of your humanity. You want answers that end this violence and conflict, not answers that explain the purpose behind it and the forces which keep the cycle of violence in reality.

Why would the Plan have anything to do with violence and inhumanity? We will tell you that we, the ascended masters, do not direct the details of the Plan, we simply impel into your dimension the spiritual energy and awakening that will allow you the opportunity to learn and to make a choice, as we have discussed. Each individual choice to exercise free will from the triad of love, wisdom and power, adds mass to the number of awakening humans. As we have said, it is your choice and your path to take, to make this into a global reality. The exact timing is not known (other than by 2012 Thy Will Be Done). The exact form is known. The Plan will reign supreme for it is the Plan of the Divine Mind.

Already, do you not see many more examples of love and compassion in your lives? Do you not experience the impact of greater levels of tolerance for others? Do you not know that we are Here? This is a vast change from even 20 years ago, much less 200 years ago and much less 2,000 years ago. Time seems long to you even as you experience it accelerating in your lives. But to us, the next period of 7 years will be completed in a micro-second of the nano-second. So we already see what you are hoping for, the Cosmic Christ in Reality. We already know what you wish to believe but remain skeptical of: Love reigns supreme.

In every act of violence, there is today, a vastly different reactive energy of exponential Love. This is the Plan in action. Several hundreds of people were harmed in the bombings. But many millions of people reacted in compassion, in prayer, in meditation, in sending light and love to those impacted, in standing united, once again, against these forces to proclaim that "we are the people, we will not bow to fear, we will Love, we do Love and we will continue to Love." There is an exponential mathematical factor that exists in sacred geometry which you may know as the Fibonacci sequence. We would like you to know that there is a similar dynamic for the energy sequence of Love. You may look into the sequence on your own if you are so inclined, but let us tell you that when sacred movement towards Love begins, it is exponential such that after only 200 “turns”, angles or factors, the number in the sequence is thus:

280,571,172,992,510,140,037,611,932,413,038,677,189,525

Can you even fathom that number? Can you count it? Can you measure it? This is the number or value of energetic outpouring of Love of only 200 people! With only 200 beings of Light sending Love to fellow beings in need, the sequence pattern generates this amazing amount of power. This is only a number you are saying! And a number cannot heal or touch a human heart. This is where you are skeptical and wish still to blame, thus staying out of Trust. For sacred geometry is about much more than shapes and numbers. It is about the structure of reality.

If this much love is generated by only 200 people, what is the power of 2 million, 20 million, 200 million, 2 billion? It is infinite and this is the message:

Love in this proportion has never been seen anywhere in the galaxy.

This is true in spite of and because of your outpourings of heart to such events as are troubling you right now! The power behind the Fibonacci sequence is greater than ever before, even though the mechanics of the equation have not changed. This is also because the Christ Consciousness grid, earth’s crystal matrix grid, the angelic healing ray grid, the many other grids of light have been repaired and restored in your reality. This has been done by your consciousness, your co-creative cooperation with the Spiritual Hierarchy, and your free will. These grids amplify Love through the Aquarian Age in a way never before seen. The light grids appear as such strong beacons that many are gathering in great anticipation. You are waiting for something that is Here. You are doubting something that is Real. You are saddened because you cannot see the bigger picture of the Plan.

And can we tell you with any satisfaction what this is? Can we give you an answer more complete than the Return of the Cosmic Christ to your Heart? Can we prove to you beyond a doubt that Love and Light has returned to Earth? Look into your own hearts, our friends in light. What is there? This is where your answer lies. If you look at all that is outside you and continue to despair, you will never be satisfied with any answer we provide. If you look within and are in Love with your own soul and feel the Love of the Creator, you already have the answer.

We heard a very pertinent reminder this morning in Unity Service: “Those who are poor go without; those who are abundant go within.” This is not a pat or trite statement. Look to your hearts, your Creator, your Soul within. Therein are all your answers. Therein are all your doubts put to rest. Therein shall all become One.

In great Love for humanity
